

How to identify target spot

Target spot lesions are characterized as having reddish-brown concentric ring lesions with a yellow halo.

Infection begins in the lower canopy. Severe infection results in premature defoliation.

